About this Guide

Preparing your home to sell can be a big event. Making it ready for the photoshoot for the listing photos, and then maintaining it as best as possible for open houses and showings can also be stressful!

This checklist will help breakdown the deep cleaning, decluttering and repair phase for both the interior and exterior of the home.

It also provides tips for helping to stay organized, with a quick clean up checklist for those last minute showings! If you need an agent and get stuck in the process, give Kelly Right Real Estate a call, we are happy to help!

Showings & Photoshoot

Prepare Your Home

- Put away family photos and personalized decor- buyers should be able to picture themselves in the home
- Declutter as much as possible- go through each room, closet and storage area. Trash, donate and store away items (this will help your spaces look larger, more functional and make it easier to maintain and quick clean before showings. Decluttering will help make it easier to pack while moving too)
- Secure and lock up valuables including: sensitive and financial documents, medication, guns, jewelry, etc.
- Keep pet areas clean, wash bedding regularly, keep a lint roller handy and clean up pet hair daily
- Do a daily cleaning, sometimes a showing can happen without much notice
- Clear off surfaces: countertops, couches, tables, sinks, dressers, etc. A nice storage tray on counters help
- Create "stations" or decorative boxes you can keep organized. Ex: bathroom caddy, mail center, key storage
- Get a decorative storage box or basket for each room of the home to help with organization and decluttering
- Keep storage spaces tidy- closets, laundry room, pantries, garages, etc. these will all be looked at

Quick Clean Before Each Showing

- Clear off and wipe down surfaces: countertops, couches, tables, sinks, dressers, etc.
- Quickly check each room before the showing: straighten blankets, towels, pillows, bookshelves, etc.
- Use the decorative basket or storage box in the room to quickly hide daily clutter in
- Light a fire in the winter
- Open blinds during the daytime
- Have plenty of lights on at night time, turn on exterior lights
- Tastefully decorate tables and mantels with fresh cut flowers or plants
- Be aware of odors; avoid strong smelling foods, create a pleasant (but not overwhelming) fragrance
- Close all toilets, replace empty toilet paper rolls
- Close / empty all trash cans
- Hide pet and food bowls, clean out any cages / litter boxes
- Keep a lint roller handy and clean up pet hair, straighten pet area
- Turn off the TV and play music – tune into classical or soft jazz

Working with the Agent

- Let the agent show your home; let them discuss the price and terms with the client; do not interfere
- Refer inquiries about your house to your agent to take advantage of the agent's professional skills
- Have information handy (where bus runs, local school list, garbage service, utilities company information, sprinkler system company, transferable roof warranty information, shopping centers nearby, etc.)
- Disappear or remain in the background (take the kids and pets with you)
- Be friendly and available to showings
